

Who attended: Jake Franklin, Maya Bock, Kaiyan Xu

Who did not: Graham Wallier

Summary:

The summary of our meeting is that we each created a list of ideas for about 15 minutes. Then we described each of our ideas to the group. Then we voted on our top 4 favorite ideas, and narrowed it down to the idea we think would be best for the project.

Our top 4 ideas:

- Teach me! (Jack of all trades)
 - An app that gives mini lessons on different topics. Become a Jack of All Trades!
- Travel planning app
 - Give it your destination and it plans fun days for you on your trip within budget, near your destination
- Textbook exchange
 - App will allow people to share their used textbooks with others locally or far away! It will arrange and cover shipping for a listing price of $10 or so
- Carrier Roamer
 - Mobile carrier to automatically choose the strongest signal available
 - Reduces/prevents interruptions caused by signal dead zones

The idea we chose was a textbook exchange service. We came up with other initial thoughts, such as the service being originally for one specific school, and then expanding to other schools. Additionally, the service might expand to other materials, such as SAT prep books and books for kids in K-12.